Courses with multiple codes

- A single course may include students enrolled in different course codes (UGRD, PGRD, etc.).
- The assessment requirements for students at the postgraduate level will be higher than that for undergraduate
- The different r he form of extra coursework or different exam

Postgraduate students have additional requirements in some of the assignments

Late submission policy

- You should hand your coursework in on time.
- If you hand in your work late, your mark will be capped, based on how many days late it is.
 - 1 day late – mark capped at 75%
 - 2 days late –
 - 3 days late –
 - more than 3 days late – no mark
- If you handed in something on time and it is worth more than something that you handed in late, you will get the higher mark.
- Hand in early!

Assignment extensions

- Extensions will not be granted for circumstances including minor ailments; travel, employment, family, customary, sport or leisure commitments; problems with balancing workloads; normal exam stress or anxiety.
 - If you think you need an extension, contact your course coordinator or consult the Head of School. <https://eduassistpro.github.io/> Add WeChat edu_assist_pro
 - Students who deliberately submit false or fraudulent documentation may be referred to the Student Misconduct Tribunal.
 - You will normally only receive an extension equivalent to the number of days covered by your documentation. Don't expect to get an extra week because you lost a day.

Assignment extensions – Assumption of maturity

- I assume I deal with adults
- If you think you have a good reason for a late submission, you can submit up to 72 hours past the deadline witho
- Caveats:
 - No late submissions beyond 72
 - If you need more than 72 hours you need to justify all extensions
 - For example, if you were sick for two days and the submission server died on the third, you will be asked to show a medical certificate

Academic Honesty Policies

- The University has strict policies prohibiting students from presenting other people's work as their own, whether that of students or from outside the University.
- You may not copy code from another student or give another student your code to copy from, unless specifically authorised to do so by a staff member.
- You may not copy code without permission.
- If caught, you may receive zero for the assignment or be expelled.
- We don't give you assignment work just to keep you busy, we do it to develop your understanding and ability to apply important techniques.
- If you don't do the work yourself, you won't be able to do it in the examination and you won't be able to do it in the work force.
- Full policy available at the university webpages.

How to avoid plagiarism/collusion

- If you get stuck, seek help from the lecturer, tutor or prac demonstrator rather than copying from someone else.
- Starting your work early will help you to avoid getting stuck at the last minute.

<https://eduassistpro.github.io/>

When in doubt, ask the lecturer.
